

Contact: K.B. Mercer
800/936-4723
kb@travelinglantern.com

Johnny Appleseed

Planting apples and wisdom.

John Chapman, an early American naturalist, travels the newly expanding nation learning from the Native Americans, and spreading his growing knowledge to the pioneers. He plants both apple seeds and a love of nature wherever he goes. His lessons of environmental stewardship, conservation and sustainability are especially relevant to children today, as they learn to protect and respect the beauty of nature around them.

For additional information, please contact Traveling Lantern at 800/936-4723 or visits www.travelinglantern.com.

#

